Complete Warranty Entitlements

Please Note – Rights under this warranty are in addition to the owner’s statutory rights under the Trade Practices act 1974 and other state and territory laws of a similar nature. If this warranty is inconsistent with any such statutory rights it will restrict or modify those rights only to the extent permitted by law.

1. Under the terms of this warranty the repair or replacement of any parts shall be at the option of IACS or its Authorised Service Provider. IACS will not be responsible for failure to fulfil its obligations hereunder due to any cause beyond its control.
2. Product defects covered by this warranty will be, during normal business hours, repaired at the premises of the customer or in the case of a window type unit where the repair may take place at an IACS branch or an Authorised Service Provider.
3. When parts are replaced under warranty, the replacement part will be covered by the remaining period of the original product warranty.
4. The owner is responsible to provide reasonable and safe access to the product if warranty service is ever required. This warranty does not cover any costs or additional labour associated with gaining safe access to the product.
5. This warranty does not imply general servicing or maintenance nor to any loss of product or parts, actions or negligence of the installer, or service of the unit that result in losses or damage of any kind. Including those due to, Inadequate sizing of the unit’s capacity to deal with the area to be conditioned, air distribution or power supply.
6. This warranty only applies provided that the product has been correctly installed and used in Australia in accordance with the manufacturer’s guidelines and maintenance recommendations. This warranty does not cover damage, malfunction or failure resulting from use on incorrect voltages, alteration to the unit, accident, misuse, neglect, abuse, faulty or improper installation, incorrect setting of customer controls, mains power supply problems, thunderstorm activity, infestation by insects or vermin, tampering by unauthorised persons, failure of the user to observe recommended precautions noted in the operating instructions, exposure to abnormally corrosive conditions or allowing any foreign object or matter to enter the product. This warranty does not apply if the product has been installed in transportable or mobile applications or de-installed and re-installed during the warranty period.
7. Warranty shall not apply if the customer cannot provide proof of the date of original purchase, the model and serial number of the unit and the installing company/trades person including the ARC license number. These details should be entered on the “warranty service request” form. This is to ensure that the unit was installed by qualified trade persons, as required by law.

INDEPENDENT AIR CONDITIONING SOLUTIONS

8. IACS accepts no liability pursuant to this warranty for consequential damage to or by the product, or for any malfunctions resulting from the use of accessories, which, in the opinion of IACS management, are defective or incompatible with the product, or for any other consequential damage. IACS reserve the right to terminate this warranty should the product not be used for what it was originally intended for.
9. The warranty shall be void if the serial number has been removed or defaced.
10. IACS reserve the right to make an administration charge in the case of parts being improperly returned as defective and/or as subject to warranty.
11. IACS reserve the right to request faulty parts to be returned. If the requested parts are not returned the customer will be invoiced for the part.
